

HERE COME THE PIONEERS!

THE HENRY YORK STEINER MEMORIAL, 1920.

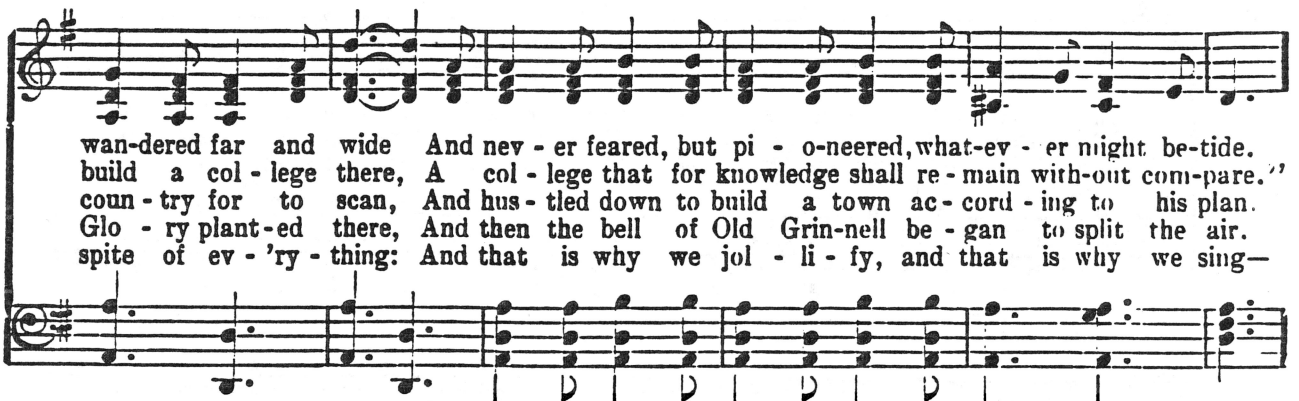

H. W. MATLACK, '02.

1. The men of old were strong and bold, and full of en - er - gy, They start-ed out with
 2. One day a bunch con-ceived a hunch that they would trav-el too, J. B. Grin-nell, the
 3. The Mis - sis - cip' with-out a slip they swam from shore to shore, And then in - to the
 4. They hauled some logs from out the bogs and built a shack or two, And hired some pros and
 5. We cel - e - brate, per-pet - u - ate, and joy - ful - ly ac - claim The Pi - o - neers of song and shout the coun - try for to see. O'er hill and plain, with might and main, they po - ets tell, their lead - er brave and true. "We'll start to - day, for I - o - way to bound-less view they ven-tured to ex - plore. Un - til J. B. climbed up a tree the oth - er toffs, to teach them what to do. They dug a hole and on a pole Old oth - er years who al-ways played the game. The no - ble band who fought and planned in wan-dered far and wide And nev - er feared, but pi - o-neered, what-ev - er night be-tide.

 build a col - lege there, A col - lege that for knowledge shall re - main with-out com-pare."
 coun - try for to scan, And hus - tled down to build a town ac - cord - ing to his plan.
 Glo - ry plant-ed there, And then the bell of Old Grin-nell be - gan to split the air.
 spite of ev - 'ry - thing: And that is why we jol - li - fy, and that is why we sing—

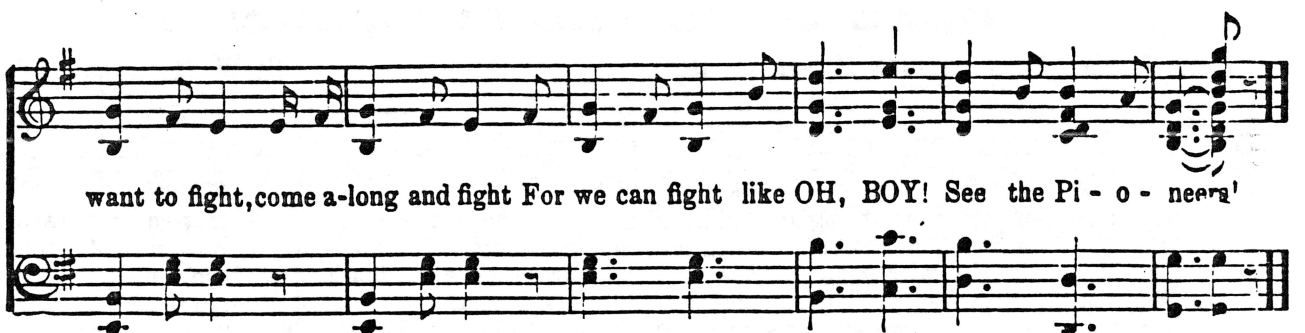

CHORUS.

Here come the Pi - o - neers of Old Grin - nell! Ev - 'ry-bo - dy stands and cheers

When he sees the Pi - o-neers. Big men, strong men, sons of Old Grin - nell! If you want to fight, come a-long and fight For we can fight like OH, BOY! See the Pi - o - neers!